MWorld is an iPad-based educational app produced by Monash University. Teachers can use MWorld to inspire children’s natural curiosity, support inquiry-based learning, and enrich their literacy programs.

MWorld contains a series of multimedia ‘titles’. Each title is authored by a university academic and is a journey of discovery, containing a fully-narrated script, videos, music, games, and quizzes. Each title comes with a teacher guide and is interspersed with key inquiry questions mapped to Bloom’s taxonomy.

Here is the range of titles currently available in MWorld. If you have any questions or would like more information, please contact team@discovermworld.com or visit discovermworld.com.
Team MWorld are working on more than 20 new titles, including those shown here, but the final versions may vary in name and content and we can’t guarantee which specific new titles will be released during the period of your subscription.

Please contact team@discovermworld.com if you’d like to know more!