PISA 2018: Financial Literacy
Australian snapshot

National achievement
Australia’s average student achievement was below that of four other countries.

High and low achievers
Australia had the widest diversity in student skills and knowledge.

Access to money
Australia has the highest percentage of students using mobile apps to access their money.

Spending habits
Australia has the highest percentage of students that compare prices between shops.

Sources of money
The percentage of Australian students making money from selling things and working in the family business increased between 2012 and 2018.

Score point difference between lowest and highest performers
Australia had the widest diversity in student skills and knowledge.

Australia had the widest diversity in student skills and knowledge.

Score point difference between lowest and highest performers
Australia had the widest diversity in student skills and knowledge.

Score point difference between lowest and highest performers
Australia had the widest diversity in student skills and knowledge.

Score point difference between lowest and highest performers
Australia had the widest diversity in student skills and knowledge.

Score point difference between lowest and highest performers
Australia had the widest diversity in student skills and knowledge.

Score point difference between lowest and highest performers
Australia had the widest diversity in student skills and knowledge.

Score point difference between lowest and highest performers
Australia had the widest diversity in student skills and knowledge.

Score point difference between lowest and highest performers
Australia had the widest diversity in student skills and knowledge.

Score point difference between lowest and highest performers
Australia had the widest diversity in student skills and knowledge.

Score point difference between lowest and highest performers
Australia had the widest diversity in student skills and knowledge.

Score point difference between lowest and highest performers
Australia had the widest diversity in student skills and knowledge.