ACER Press can also produce quality publications on behalf of educational institutions, government agencies, not-for-profit organisations and other public sector bodies. We are happy to consider commissions for projects in almost any format that make use of our considerable experience in editing, design and production. Please contact our General Manager if you would like to discuss requirements for any aspect of your future publishing program.

ACER Press

Publisher
ACER Press
proposals@acer.edu.au

15 foor Pitt Street
Sydney, NSW 2000

Contact

Visit the ACER online shop to view our full range of publications and products

ACER Online Shop

http://shop.acer.edu.au
ACER Press is always interested in new projects and resources for education, psychology and HR professionals. We continue to look for ways to expand our publishing program and welcome proposals that suit our agenda and criteria.

The first step for an author is to make a preliminary enquiry, preferably by email, to the ACER Press Publisher. (See reverse for contact information.) If your proposal fits our publishing program, we will ask you to complete a Publishing Proposal form, accessible at www.acer.edu.au/authors. This will provide us with the information necessary to formally assess your proposal.

We also actively commission work from authors who we believe can develop resources that meet specific market needs. In these cases, authors are asked to prepare a proposal for further consideration.

In all cases, proposals and finished manuscripts are subject to a rigorous review process where ACER staff and external experts assess the work and may suggest improvements. The chart opposite shows the ACER Press publishing process from the proposal stage to contract and commencement of production.

ACER's mission is to create and promote research-based knowledge, products and services that can be used to improve learning across the life span.

ACER Press is the publishing arm of ACER. It produces and distributes an extensive range of research-based resources, including tests, kits, books and teaching materials for those engaged in:

- education
- psychology
- human resources
- parent education
- mental health
- speech pathology
- early learning development
- special needs
- assessment.

The ACER Press catalogue includes products developing both ACER staff and other authors in print, electronic, software, video, DVD and audio formats. Over 5000 titles are available from our online shop http://shop.acer.edu.au and from retailers across Australia and distribution agents internationally.

The ACER Press catalogue includes products developing both ACER staff and other authors in print, electronic, software, video, DVD and audio formats. Over 5000 titles are available from our online shop http://shop.acer.edu.au and from retailers across Australia and distribution agents internationally.

To learn more about ACER Press products:

- Education: www.acer.edu.au
- Software: www.acersoftware.com.au
- Human Resources: www.acerhremployee.com.au
- Professional Development: www.acerprofessionals.com.au

The ACER Press publishing process

New, unsolicited publications

- Author submits publishing proposal with provisional contents list and, ideally, sample chapters.
- Publisher seeks out and approaches prospective author/s to discuss the concept, share ideas and assess interest.
- Author responds to feedback and, if required by Publisher, further develops the proposal in accordance with advice.
- Publisher confirms manuscript extent, date of delivery and related details prior to formal offer of contract.
- Publisher works closely with author throughout manuscript development process.
- Author signs contract or in accordance with ABPA Press guidelines and contractual agreement.
- Author meets with ACER Press team to discuss marketing and promotional activities.
- Author works with ACER Press team to discuss marketing and promotional activities.
- Author submits final manuscript in accordance with ACER Press guidelines and contractual agreement.
- Publisher sends out preliminary costing and contracts to chosen evaluators.
- Publisher commissions external review and assesses market requirements.
- Publisher carries out preliminary costing and contracts to chosen evaluators.
- Publisher confirms format, print run, price and publication date prior to contract and commencement of production.
ACER Press is always interested in new projects and resources for education, psychology and HR professionals. We continue to look for ways to expand our publishing program and welcome proposals that suit our agenda and criteria.

The first step for an author is to make a preliminary enquiry, preferably by email, to the ACER Press Publisher. See reverse for contact information. If your proposal fits our publishing program, we will ask you to complete a Publishing Proposal form, accessible at www.acer.edu.au/authors. This will provide us with the information necessary to formally assess your proposal.

We also actively commission work from authors who we believe can develop resources that meet specific market needs. In these cases, authors are asked to prepare a proposal for further consideration.

In all cases, proposals and finished manuscripts are subject to a rigorous review process where ACER staff and external experts assess the work and may suggest improvements. As a further guide, the chart opposite shows the ACER Press publishing process from the proposal stage to contract and commencement of production.

ACER’s mission is to create and promote research-based knowledge, products and services that can be used to improve learning across the life span.
ACER Press is always interested in new projects and innovative ways to reach psychology, education and HR professionals. We continue to look for ways to expand our publishing program and welcome proposals that suit our agenda and criteria.

The first step for an author is to make a preliminary enquiry, preferably by email, to the ACER Press Publisher. (See reverse for contact information.) If your proposal fits our publishing program, we will ask you to complete a Publishing Proposal form, accessible at www.acer.edu.au/authors. This will provide us with the information necessary to formally assess your proposal.

We also actively commission work from authors who we believe can develop resources that meet specific market needs. In these cases, authors are asked to prepare a proposal for further consideration.

In all cases, proposals and finished manuscripts are subject to a rigorous review process where ACER staff and external experts assess the work and may suggest improvements. As a further guide, the chart opposite shows the ACER Press publishing process from the proposal stage to contract and commencement of production.

The ACER Press mission is to create and promote research-based knowledge, products and services that can be used to improve learning across the life span.

ACER Press is the publishing arm of ACER. It produces and distributes an extensive range of research-based resources, including tests, kits, books and teaching materials for those engaged in:

- education
- psychology
- human resources
- parent education
- mental health
- sport psychology
- early learning development
- special needs
- assessment.

The ACER Press catalogue includes products developed by ACER staff and other authors in print, electronic, software, video, DVD and audio formats. Our Über titles are available from our online shop http://shop.acer.edu.au and from retailers across Australia and distribution agents internationally.

New, unsolicited publications

Author submits publishing proposal with provisional contents list and sample chapters.

Publisher carries out preliminary costing and contracts in-house evaluation.

Commissioned publications

Author collaborates with ACER Press in development of proposal and external feedback is obtained.

Author responds to feedback and, if requested by Publisher, further develops the proposal in accordance with advice.

Publisher confirms manuscript extent, date of delivery and related details prior to formal offer of contract.

Author meets with the ACER Press team to discuss marketing and promotional activities.

Author receives royalty with ACER Press and other details and contractual rights are confirmed.

Format, price, print run and distribution details are confirmed.

Publisher works closely with author throughout manuscript development process.

The ACER Press publishing process

ACER publishes the following categories of products:

- education
- psychology
- human resources
- parent education
- mental health
- speech pathology
- early learning development
- special needs
- assessment.

To learn more about ACER Press products:

- Education: www.acer.edu.au/education
- Research: www.acer.edu.au/research
- Human Resources: www.acerhr.com.au
- Speech Pathology: www.speechpath.acer.edu.au

For more information, please see the reverse of this page.
ACER Press can also produce quality publications on behalf of educational institutions, government agencies, not-for-profit organisations and other public sector bodies. We are happy to consider commissions for projects in almost any format that make use of our considerable experience in editing, design and production. Please contact our General Manager if you would like to discuss requirements for any aspect of your future publishing program.

Improving Learning
The Australian Council for Educational Research (ACER) is one of the world’s leading educational research centres, committed to creating and disseminating research-based knowledge, products and services to improve learning across the lifespan in both formal and informal settings. ACER was established in 1930 and has since built a strong reputation as a provider of reliable support and expertise to policy makers and professionals working in education, psychology and human resources. It has experienced significant growth in recent years and now has almost 400 staff located in Melbourne, Sydney, Brisbane, Perth, Adelaide, Dubai and Delhi.

ACER Press
proposals@acer.edu.au
19 Prospect Hill Road
(Private Bag 55)
Camberwell Victoria 3124
Australia
+ 61 3 9277 5555
+ 61 3 9277 5500

twitter.com/acereduau
www.facebook.com/acer.edu.au

Visit the ACER online shop to see our full range of publications and products

ACER Online Shop
http://shop.acer.edu.au

Melbourne  •  Sydney  •  Brisbane  •  Perth  •  Adelaide  •  Dubai  •  Delhi

www.acer.edu.au
ACER Press can also produce quality publications on behalf of educational institutions, government agencies, not-for-profit organisations and other public sector bodies. We are happy to consider commissions for projects in almost any format that make use of our considerable experience in editing, design and production. Please contact our General Manager if you would like to discuss requirements for any aspect of your future publishing program.

www.acer.edu.au
Melbourne  Sydney  Brisbane  Perth  Adelaide  Dubai  Delhi

Visit the ACER online shop to see our full range of publications and products

http://shop.acer.edu.au